Governor,

You've been so swamped these last few days, I didn't have a chance to confirm with you whether you'll be attending the AK Airlines event tomorrow at the AK Aviation Heritage Museum, 11 a.m. In the case that you do attend, I have compiled information and remarks for you. They are in a briefing binder on your office chair, and I have attached the most pertinent info to this email. Please let me know if you have any questions or requests.

Thank you!

Governor –

We followed up on the Cary Carrigan Show request that you had asked on today.
Cary has a show Monday through Friday, 6:00 – 9:00 a.m. on KUDO. Cary has requested a brief phone interview with you for tomorrow, Friday, 05.30 between 7:15 – 7:30 a.m. He is a big AGIA supporter and would like to talk with you briefly about it.

Please let me know if you would like to do this and we will call him back. Thanks, Janice

They will then be accompanying you in the Clem Tillion meeting. I thought doing this at 10:15/10:20 may work as you are pretty much booked the rest of today. Thanks, Janice

The last two days of tweaking this was necessary because the first draft I saw of it did not arrive on my desk until I had to request it, and then it was certainly not a final product - there was a lot of tweaking that had to be done before the product was to be released to Alaskans. Subject: E-Mail from Hawaii AG Mark Bennett

Dear Attorney General Colberg:

I am e-mailing (and also separately writing) to ask you to please join the amicus brief Washington (Jay D. Geck, Deputy Solicitor General (360) 586-2697, jayg@atg.wa.gov) is writing on behalf of Hawaii, asking the Supreme Court to grant certiorari in the case of Hawaii v. Office of Hawaiian Affairs (Hawaii's petition was authored by former Solicitor General Seth Waxman). The deadline for signing on is Friday, May 30, 2008, and the amicus brief will be filed Monday, June 2, 2008. I believe all states have a significant interest in the issues raised by this case.

As with every state admitted to the Union after the original thirteen colonies, the United States granted Hawaii lands at statehood. These lands amount to about one-third of the entire land area of Hawaii and almost all land now owned by Hawaii. In 1993, Congress passed a symbolic resolution apologizing for the United States's role in the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy. Congress has, more than once, considered or adopted words of apology for historic wrongs visited upon the aboriginal inhabitants of North America, and there are more such resolutions pending and possible in the future -- resolutions that could affect many states.

The Hawaii Supreme Court held that this symbolic resolution was direct action by the Congress stripping Hawaii of its sovereign authority to sell or transfer the lands Hawaii received at statehood from the United States, unless and until Hawaii reaches a political settlement with native Hawaiians about the status of that land and aboriginal claims regarding that land.

The Hawaii Supreme Court ruling wrongly turned an apology from Congress into a federal law that has impaired state sovereignty, state law ownership, and the prudent management of state lands. The Supreme Court of Hawaii's interpretation of the Apology Act should be reviewed by the Supreme Court because, under core values of federalism, the Hawaii court's interpretation is inconsistent with limits on Congressional powers to alter a sovereign state's title to lands granted at statehood.

The United States Supreme Court's correction of this erroneous decision will inure to the benefit of all states, as clearly the powers attributed by the Hawaii Supreme Court to the Congress are powers that the Congress does not possess.

An amicus memorandum has been distributed by NAAG, and a draft amicus brief will shortly be circulated by Washington. Please feel free to call me directly on this matter (808) 586-1282 (w) or (808) 372-1404 (c).

This matter is extremely important to Hawaii, and I would very much appreciate it if you are able to join Washington's amicus brief.

Mark Bennett

I can not believe sen prez and resources committee chairman arent here - esp after charlie spent all that time in China recently to learn about a competing project - but won't spend time here learning about TC Alaska?

Has a response letter gone out to lyda's May 23 letter?

If not, pls craft one acknowledging receipt of it, and explaining we need to hear what her plan is to get both bills to the Senate floor. It can be short and sweet... Then she can't clobber us for not responding.

It would be helpful for wesley and other reporters to note who's not here again today (leadership), and who is here AGAIN today (for instance: lyda's competitor in her race, linda menard, is here again today).

I can not believe sen prez and resources committee chairman arent here - esp after charlie spent all that time in China recently to learn about a competing project - but won't spend time here learning about TC Alaska?

Governor –

Briefing for Clem Tillion Meeting today, Thurs., 05.29.08 at 10:30 a.m. – ANC Governor's Office of The Governor (received from Cora Crome). I will have copy printed out for you this morning at the office.

Clem has made it known that he wants the Governor to make a statement about supporting small boat fisheries and onshore processing that he can take to the Board of Fish and the legislature to advance his agenda. He is a representative of the City of Adak, which relies heavily on fish taxes from their only processor, Adak Fisheries, for operating revenue. Adak currently has a population of around 140 people and has struggled to establish itself as a viable community since the Aleut Corporation received the island and naval facilities after the base closed in 1997.

Adak has consistently asked for special fishing and processing rights from Congress, the North Pacific Council, and the Board of Fisheries. Congress, through a Stevens rider, granted the Aleut corporation exclusive rights to catch a percentage of the pollock available in the Aleutian Islands. This was controversial since Ben Stevens held an option to buy a portion of Adak Fisheries at the time, the value of which was probably increased by the pollock allocation. The Board of Fisheries has taken several actions to provide a state waters cod fishery in the area. However, Adak continues to struggle due to difficulties with their processor and competition from other communities and processors.

Clem would like more crab to be processed in Adak. We are in the process at the North Pacific Council of amending the crab program to make more crab available for processing at Adak, so this concern is being addressed.

He also wants an exclusive right to process cod for Adak fisheries. I have told Clem that while we will work to encourage cod processing in Adak, we will not grant them a monopoly and force fishermen to deliver to their processor. Instead, we are working through the council process to make some smaller changes to encourage more processing onshore.

His other goal is to develop a small boat cod fishery near Adak. The Board of Fish can consider whether to limit the cod fishery to smaller vessels in order to help develop the small boat fleet in Adak. I have told Clem I believe they are willing to consider it and have discussed the concept with the chair and vice-chair of the board.

In short, we are working to meet every reasonable request Clem has made.

The topic of council appointments may also come up. Clem is no fan of Gerry Merrigan because Gerry refuses to go along with Clem's agenda. I have told Clem that it is too early to decide whether to reappoint someone whose term doesn't expire until August 2009. Gerry is a knowledgeable, hard working council member who has a lot of support from other fishermen and groups.
